ABOUT YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

June - the traditional month of brides and roses - will soon see many a "Miss" become a "Mrs." But no matter in what month of the year this happy event occurs, the new "Mrs." should be sure to let her social security office in on the good news too - that is, if she already has a social security card in her maiden name. A change of name requires a new account number card which will carry the same social security number as the person had before, but issued in her new name.

Only when the worker's name and number as reported on employment tax returns agree with the name and number shown on the worker's social security card can the Social Security Administration give proper credit of these earnings to the worker's account. Many women who obtained social security cards in their maiden names and who continue to work after marriage, fail to apply to the social security office for new cards showing their married names. This makes it very difficult in most cases for them to receive proper credit for earnings reported in their married names, even though the number itself is correct. These cases usually are cleared up only after considerable tracing by the Social Security Administration with the worker and her employer.

Your local post office has a supply of cards "Request for Change in Social Security Records." Whenever you change your name, get this card from your post office, complete and mail it to your local social security office, 112 Langhorne Road, Lynchburg, Va.

Carnefix State Winner

Joel Carnefix, FRD 3, Appomattox, has been named area winner of the Future Farmers of America Foundation award for farm and home electrification. A June graduate of the Appomattox High School, Joel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Carnefix.

Young Carnefix lives on a 225-acre general farm. He has applied many improved practices in farm electrification on the home farm. Among his activities in electrification were the installation of milking machines, extending electric service to the dairy barn and rewiring electric motors.

By placing first in the fifteen county area, Joel's application is in line for consideration for state honors. Announcement of the state winner will be made during the state FFA Convention at VPI June 18-21.

RESCUE SQUAD APPEAL

Capt. Kenneth Jamerson and members of the Appomattox Rescue Squad are again making an appeal for any kind of hospital equipment, wheel chairs, crutches, etc. which they will store and make available to the public on a loan basis. They are especially in need of crutches, either metal or wooden. If necessary, they will be repaired by members of the crew.

Crew members are now selling hand fire extinguishers which are very easy to use, and would like to place one in every home. Contact any member for information as to use and price.

The regular squad meeting was held Tuesday night' at which time movies were shown and business discussed.

Orientation Day Is Held At A. H. S.

The Student Cooperative Association together with the faculty took charge of the orientation day, on May 22, for the seventh graders who will be attending Appomattox High next year. The day began with an assembly program in the A. H. S. Auditorium, with S. C. A. President, Winifred Nash, presiding. Devotions were given by the Chaplain, Richard Hamilton, after-which, the glee club led the students in singing "America." Welcoming talks were given by Mrs. Gilbert, Mr. Chuchek, Mr. Smith, Mrs. Green, Mr. Bragg and Mr. Montgomery. A program was presented by the glee club and band under the direction of Mrs. Bingham.

The students were numbered into six groups of boys and six groups of girls. The groups under the instruction of selected guides, visited various departments of the school. Lunch was served at 11:30, afterwhich the students returned to their respective schools.

"MISS VIRGINIA" PAGEANT PLANNING READIED

Plans are nearing the completion stage for the 1962 Miss Virginia Pageant which will be held in Roanoke on June 21, 22, and 23, at the American Theatre. This is the ninth year that the Pageant, sponsored by the Valley Junior Woman's Club, has been conducted in the Old Dominion's "Star City."

Thirty contestants, representing the State's fairest from boundry to boundary, will begin arriving at Hotel Roanoke, Pageant headquarters, on Tuesday, June 19, and all will have registered by 10:00 a.m. Wednesday, the 20th.

A banquet at the Hotel, night parade through dowatown Roanoke, and Reception at the Roanoke Country Club will take place on Wednesday, the 20th. The reception will be given by the Roanoke Chamber of Commerce. Rehearsals, rehearsals, and more rehearsals will fill each waking moment of the following three days, insuring top-notch performances for the general public on each night of the staged production, the 21st, 22d, and 23d —at 8:00 p.m.

On the final night, as the "Cinderella" hour approaches, the new Miss Virginia, whoever she may be . . . will be announced before thousands, and crowned by the now reigning Miss Virginia, Charlotte Ann Thomas, in a climatic finale, as Virginia's candidate for the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City during the first week in September.

Fame, fortune, opportunity and honor await the naming of the new queen at the "touch of the magic wand" bestows upon her a $1,000 educational scholarship at the school of her choice, awarded by the Virginia Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Foundation, Inc. She will also receive a complete wardrobe, befitting any Princess, from sponsor, S. H. Heironimus of Roanoke. A completely new award this year will be given by Philco, a National sponsor of the Miss American Pageant — $500 toward the purchase of the "Competition Evening Gown" to be worn during the Pageant finals in Atlantic City, New Jersey, September 3-9, 1962 over nationwide television. Also, from Philco for the first time, comes the presentation of the "Miss Virginia Television Set." Other awards and surprises for Miss Virginia 1962 will be announced at a later date.

Season tickets, are now on sale at $5.00 for reserved seats all three nights until June 24, at which time tickets are purchased at separate rates. Information on tickets and other pageant activities may be directed to Miss Virginia Pageant, P. O. Box 5061, Roanoke, Virginia.
